

TWO LARGE DINNER DANCES ENLIVEN THE HOLIDAY SEASON

Mrs. John Sanford and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Entertain Younger Set--Several Charity Balls Planned

CHRISTMAS week brought with it festivities something of the spirit of seasons before the war, but with the exception of the parties given by Mrs. John Sanford and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., there was nothing else in the way of large entertainments.

Mrs. Sanford's dinner dance of Christmas eve given for her son, Stephen Sanford, who has just been mustered out of the U. S. N. R. F., was for the younger people and some of the young married ones. It served also as a housewarming, as Mr. and Mrs. Sanford have but recently taken possession of the home in East Seventy-second street of the late James Stillman. The dance following Mrs. Sanford's dinner brought together many of the Newport contingent.

Mrs. Vanderbilt's dinner dance was not unlike that of Mrs. Sanford's, as it was mainly for younger people.

While the early part of the new year does not promise any important private entertainments, there is being arranged a ball in celebration of peace, which will be for the benefit of the Ebbes Hospital, at Lexington avenue and Fifty-fifth street. It will be given at Sherry's on the night of January 7, and those in charge intend to have it as much as possible like a private entertainment. It will be the first opportunity for the debutantes to assemble, now that the Junior Assemblies are not to be revived.

For several years there have been musical entertainments for the benefit of the hospital, and last January a concert was given at the home of Mrs. Oliver Gould Jennings when Heifetz played and nearly $5,000 was netted.

Noted List of Patronesses.

There will be a reception committee, and in every other particular the ball will be like those that have been given at Sherry's by private individuals in past years. Among those who have consented to act as patronesses are: Misses Winthrop W. Aldrich, Newbold LeRoy Edgar, W. Delancey Kountze, George B. Baker, Jr., Henry G. Frick, George B. Post, J. For the benefit of their missionary work the officers and executive board of the Episcopal Auxiliary to the Cathedral of St. John the Divine are arranging a concert to be given in Aeolian Hall on Thursday afternoon. For several years a concert has been given at the home of Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, but the needs of the auxiliary at this time require their annual concert a larger place.

At the concert on Thursday Joseph Bonnet, organist, of Paris will play, and Alfred Noyes, the English poet, will read some of his recent poems. Officers of the auxiliary are:

Mrs. Mary Whitelaw Reid, Mrs. Charles Frederick Hoffman, Mrs. Amy Townsend, Mrs. John S. Rogers, Mrs. William M. V. Hoffman, Mrs. Harold F. Hadden, Mrs. David H. Greer, Mrs. John R. A special performance of Sir James M. Even though hostilities in France are over, there is great need of kits for the French troops, and numerous letters have been received here calling attention to the fact that troops will winter under severe conditions. abroad on account of the ravages of war than here, and there are frequent calls for aid from New York. Many of the musicians in France are destitute, and for this reason the Society of American Friends of Musicians in France will give a farewell reception and supper this evening at the Ritz-Carlton in honor of André Messager and Alfred Cortot, and the net proceeds will be devoted to the fund for destitute French musicians.
